Welcome to Kodmyran Commerce Developer

Author Kodmyran AB

Introduction

This site describes the various integration points available for developers when making customizations for Kodmyran Commerce. Initially it describes the various APIs available for remote calls, and a basic description of the templating system for Kodmyran Commerce Front.

API Documentation

Kodmyran Commerce possesses one of the most complete and ubiquitos collections of APIs of any ERP/webshop system currently in existence. In essence 99% of all operations can be performed through API, the few operations that require different access are generally blocked for security reasons.

You can read more about the various API connections in the API section of manual.

Kodmyran Front Templating

Kodmyran Front is the frontend of Kodmyran Commerce presenting the webshop GUI to endusers. This section describes the basics about writing your own graphical templates, and the functionality available.

You can read more about the frontend in the Kodmyran Front section of the manual.